EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS 08-02-2020

Objectives:

- To acquire essential skills for employability.
- To develop exposure to both academic and corporate sector. .

An orientation programme was organized on 8th February 2020 by Career Guidance & Placement Cell. Shri Manjunath H.S, Mrs. Triveni & Shri Khaja, Deshpande Foundation were invited as resource persons. According to them today India is one of the fastest growing economies in the world. But still we are using traditional methods of teaching in our education system. Where as practical skills make them employable. College learning is not enough for students to get jobs. You have to learn broad based employability skills which would help you to get the right job and flourish at workplace. Certain skills are absolutely essential for professional life. You students should acquire the following skills for suitable jobs.

- Interpersonal skills
- Written Communication Skills
- Collaboration and team work
- Work ethics and decision-making
- Critical thinking and analytical reasoning skills
- Problem solving
- Time Management and Organizational Skills
- Negotiation & Leadership skills

These skills should be taught by experienced professionals who should ideally have exposure to both academic and corporate sectors. Students should immediately ensure that these skills are very essential and are acquired in the first place and practiced.

B.A and B.Com Final year students participated in this orientation programme and involved in the discussion and clarified their doubts.
